

Leading the Future

Developing your next generation of senior leaders

Developing the next generation of senior leaders in schools and colleges is vital to securing the sustainable improvement and success of your institution.

Current senior leaders and governing bodies must build capacity to ensure that middle leaders have the skills, knowledge and desire to successfully take forward your school or college for future generations of learners.

Our Leading the Future development programme for aspirant leaders, including current middle leaders, provides a flexible, cost-effective but highly impactful solution to support your succession planning. It is also an excellent way to invest in and motivate the colleagues that are at the heart of what makes a difference within your school.

- Designed specifically around the needs of your institution and delivered on-site.
- Customised to deliver impact for you, your team and your learners.
- Led by a dedicated, experienced former or current school leader who will immerse themselves in understanding your team.
- Built to be embedded within the way that your institution works.
- Adaptable to meet the needs of leaders working at different levels in your institution.

Delivered through a 'menu' of modules individual delegates will be supported to develop their effectiveness as a leader in two key ways:

- through a structured and supported individual learning programme focussed on their work in their own school/college
- through focussed activities which develop skills.

The programmes are available for:

- single institutions
- partial or whole trusts
- federations
- local or regional collaboration groups
- teaching school alliances

Suitable for:

Leading the Future is suitable for all colleagues who are aspiring to senior leadership. It is also ideal for enhancing the leadership skills of serving middle leaders who many not necessarily be seeking to move to senior leadership currently. The programme is relevant to those in support roles as well as academic postholders.

How it works:

- Step 1: Our expert team will schedule a no-obligation call to discuss your needs and work with you to establish a suitable delivery model.
- Step 2: We will introduce you to your dedicated programme leader, a current or recent school/college leader who will make it their mission to understand your institution and your objectives.
- Step 3: We will confirm with you the impact you can expect from the programme and the practical aspects of delivery.
- Step 4: We will deliver the programme focussing on the objectives agreed.
- Step 5: Your programme leader will maintain regular contact with you during and post-programme to help gauge impact and to offer ongoing support.

On completion of the programme delegates will receive an ASCL accredited training certificate.

"All of the sessions were excellent. Everything was explained without jargon and it was so good to have someone who has experienced so many scenarios in leadership sharing what works and what doesn't. It has definitely galvanised me to pursue my career in leadership and given me some great techniques that I can use in my current role."

Previous delegate

"The whole process has been great. Our consultant spent considerable time learning about our needs and the organisation in general before putting a programme together. The feedback from staff has been great and it has had a very clear impact in terms of motivation."
